

THE HAMLIN HERALD

NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Supt. Cook has asked us to remind voters that the school trustee election will be held on the Saturday before Easter. With this in mind he is urging those who will likely be out of town that weekend to vote absentee.

Absentee voting is now underway and will run through Tuesday April 1. Those desiring to vote absentee may do so in the superintendent's office in the high school between 8 and 4 o'clock Monday through Friday. Mrs. J. O. Murphree is absentee clerk.

We understand from word out of Austin that Burke Musgrove of Breckenridge and several other Legislators are out to make some drastic changes in the University Interscholastic League.

It seems that they want to do away with the transfer rule as administered by the U.I.L. and put the whole organization under the finger of the Legislature.

While we can find many faults with the operation of the U.I.L. at times we do not believe that letting the Legislature run it would be any improvement.

In spite of its many faults the U.I.L. and its Director, Dr. Rhea Williams, have given Texas the finest high school athletic program in the nation and we would not like to see this changed.

Every school district in the state has a voice in the U.I.L. and though it may be cumbersome at times it does try to keep the interest of the youth uppermost in mind and we are not so sure about any control the Legislature might come up with.

We understand that Musgrove became upset because a youth from Abilene, whose folks moved to Breckenridge, stayed in Abilene to play for Abilene High rather than move to Breckenridge and lose a year of eligibility.

We agree that the transfer rule should be changed but lets do it within the organization that has done such a good job for Texas athletics all these years. In the first place we can not go along with the idea of just doing away with the transfer rule as proposed by HB 737 by Bill Swenson of Houston.

This would only take us back to the dark ages of recruiting high school players through the employment of their families. It seems to us that the U.I.L. could come up with a rule that would permit the transfer of a student without the resultant loss of eligibility as long as the district he is transferring from does not object.

This should take care of the vast majority of cases where a family is forced to move because of job opportunities. In most cases it is likely that the local district would know whether the student is being recruited or not.

Because of the mobile world we are living in now it seems obvious that some change needs to be made in this rule, but let us not cut off our nose to spite our face.

The School Reorganization Bill (HB 300) by Hale, is scheduled for a public hearing before the House Education Committee on Tuesday, Mar. 25. The bill now incorporates the recommendations of Governor Connally's Committee on Public Schools.

Strong opposition has developed to the mandatory reorganization plan. Because of the opposition to the reorganization part, it is likely that sponsors of the bill will try to amend the bill in this regard, but still press for tax equalization. Opposition has developed on tax equalization, too.

One thing is certain. The hearing will be well attended. It will be held at 1:30 p.m. at the Press Table in the House of Representatives.

Easter Seal Drive Collects $1,270.83 Here

Assisting with the door-to-door campaign last Tuesday were the Xi Gamma Pi and Beta Theta Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi sorority and volunteers.

Winter Closes Out With Heavy Snow Storm Saturday

Today, Mar. 20, is the first day of Spring, and the weather really gave its final punch of winter with up to six inches of snow over the weekend. Hamlin's biggest snow came just in time to be in the winter season.

In the northern part of the state much heavier snows were reported, but to the south, the snow did not reach Abilene.

Moisture in snow, sleet and rain during the weekend came to a total of 1.01 inches in the official measurement at City Pump Station.

Precipitation since last Friday was Mar. 14, .03; 15, .79; 16, .29, and 17, trace.

The Hamlin Riding Club will have a short trail ride Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. weather permitting and a weiner roast afterwards.

Giving advice are Roy Pritchard, left, and Charlie Bishop. The Seniors are eager to get cars to clean after a weekend of snow, rain and muddy conditions. Of course, they are also eager to earn money to be used toward the annual Senior Trip.

Dr. Perrin Talks to P-TA On 'Concerns About Sex Education'

Dr. E. D. Perrin, speaking to the Thursday night meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association on "Concerns About Sex Education," said "Sex Education has been rather frightening to many people, including physicians, because of the old idea, the stereotyped idea, that believes it is education about the sex act."

"Education for sexuality has a much broader meaning," he continued. "It means education for the total person, the whole person, as a man or as a woman."

He introduced his presentation using verses six and eight from the seventh chapter of the Song of Solomon, adding, "The body is good, and physical sensations are good. Man was not created to be ashamed of either. Any shame that man has in regard to either is his doing, not God's."

Dr. Perrin quoted a British minister, the Rev. Kenneth Greet, who said, "Sex is not something we do, it is something that we are."

"A recent survey indicates that by the fall of 1969 almost three out of four schools in the United States will have introduced Comprehensive Sex Education Programs in their curriculum. There are many who expect a rapid decline in illegitimacy, venereal disease, and various forms of juvenile delinquency," but he warned, "These hoped for changes will not necessarily take place."

"There are those who blame the sexual revolution on an affluent economy which has given our youth the greatest freedom it has ever known." Others point out that American parents are too permissive, still others feel that the moral revolt is a part of a larger intellectual and emotional rebellion or change. Whatever the cause," he concluded "demands are being made upon us to furnish our young people with understanding as well as information."

Despite the indications to the contrary through the idea of "new morality," Dr. Perrin said, "It has been established in all the major studies of marital adjustments that girls and boys who have been virgins before marriage make better adjustments in marriage and are less likely to divorce than those who have had pre-marital sex relations.

This is a consistent finding, virgins are a better marriage material. The answer appears to be simply that these individuals don't indulge in pre-marital sex relations because they are people with ego strength and with conventional morals and attitudes. They are the ones who do well in marriage."

"The parent has the first responsibility of transmitting to his children a sense of responsibility and a set of values." "But, he added, many parents have abdicated this responsibility, and for this reason the pressure is now upon the public schools to do a more adequate job in the area of sex education."

"Parents should certainly

Home-Baked Rolls Perk Up Mid-Season Menus

Meals this month are planned for economy. Budget-wise soups, stews and casseroles are the mainstays of mid-season menus. But far from being drab, hearty dinners-in-a-dish become meals for millionaires when they're served with fragrant, fresh-from-the-oven yeast rolls.

All-purpose accompaniments for any menu are these Buttermilk Crescents prepared by the new Rapidmix Method. Developed by home economists for Fleischmann's Yeast, Rapidmix eliminates the step of dissolving yeast in warm water. Instead, undissolved yeast is added with the dry ingredients. Furthermore, the electric mixer takes over initial beating so there's no chance of lumps. You'll feel the difference in the dough when you start to knead. It's lighter, easier to handle.

Making all this possible is improved Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast with finer granules for faster and easier blending with other ingredients. In fact, you can mix up several batches of dry ingredients (including yeast) at once and store in a cool, dry place until you're ready to finish the bread.

Home-baked Buttermilk Crescents are a fragrant and flavorful accompaniment for economical soups and stews, mainstays of mid-season menus.

BUTTERMILK CRESCENTS

3 to 3 1/2 cups unsifted flour	1/2 cup buttermilk
2 tablespoons sugar	1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon salt	1/4 cup (1/2 stick) Fleischmann's Margarine
1/2 teaspoon baking soda	Melted Fleischmann's Margarine

1 package Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 1 cup flour, sugar, salt, baking soda and undissolved Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast.

Combine buttermilk, water and 1/4 cup Fleischmann's Margarine in a saucepan. Heat slowly until liquids are warm. (Margarine does not need to melt.) Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 1/2 cup flour, or enough to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; turn out onto lightly floured board. Divide in half. Roll one half into a circle about 12 inches in diameter. Brush lightly with melted Fleischmann's Margarine. Cut each piece into 12 pie-shaped pieces. Roll each piece up tightly beginning at wide end. Seal points firmly. Place on greased baking sheets, points underneath, about 2 inches apart. Curve to form crescents. Repeat with remaining half of dough. Cover, let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) about 15 to 20 minutes, or until done. Remove from baking sheets and cool on wire racks. While hot, brush with melted Fleischmann's Margarine. Makes 2 dozen rolls.

SALLY LUNN RING
Makes one 1 1/2-qt. ring mold

1/4 cup enriched corn meal	1 tablespoon baking powder
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour	3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar	3 eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon salt	1/4 cup milk

Sally Lunn is a traditional English bread that has also won American favor. Originally a yeast loaf, often baked in a Turk's head mold, the bread was adapted to the quick bread method by ingenious American cooks. Baking powder reduces preparation time and beats egg whites, folded into the batter, give the bread its customary lightness.

Another New World addition is enriched corn meal, a staple of so many American kitchens. Corn meal adds a subtle flavor and slightly crunchy texture that is truly delightful. Attractive Sally Lunn Ring is delicious with butter and marmalade. Serve it with tea or coffee and bring a charming custom of the British tea table to your own table soon.

Pour into well-greased 1 1/2-qt. ring mold. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot with butter and marmalade.

"Whatsoever Things"

By DONALD E. WILDMON

(For those who enjoy inspirational reading, your minister, Sunday School teacher, yourself. The perfect Christmas gift, only $2.95. Order Mr. Wildmon's new book "THOUGHTS WORTH THINKING" from Five Star Publisher, Box 1368, Tupelo, Miss 38801)

It has been two years. Two hard nations largest and best, did us an excellent and wonderful years. This week will be a difficult job.

begin the third for "WHATSOEVER THINGS". For this one column, let me be personal.

I don't know, the major publishers could be right. I may lose everything. But I had to try. There are some things a man has to do even if the whole world says no. I would not take no for an answer. He wouldn't let me. And I'm convinced that people will still buy good clean books of inspiration. I'm gambling that folks will order them and tell their friends about them. I'm gambling on the goodness of people.

Well, that's where we are today. The column that wouldn't go has gone. It is read. More than 300 of you let us know that with your kind letters last month. It was one of the greatest experiences we have ever had. They came from the very rich, the very poor, the educated, the illiterate, the old, the young, from members of at least 10 different church affiliations. They came from doctors, editors, students, housewives, teachers, judges, farmers, and people of all walks. I shall never be able to repay you.

Despite being discouraged by many whose job it was to know if the column could go or not, we kept trying. Today, after spending about $1500 from our small salary, the column appears in about 200 paper across the United States.

Then there was our book. We went to five large publishers and only one showed real interest. But eventually they all said the same thing: "Books like this don't sell on today's market." With no outlet other than our readers, we decided to do with the book what we did with the column. So we borrowed a considerable sum of money and published the book ourself. We felt people still would buy "books of that type." The books came in mid-November. The printer, one of the

(March 6, 1924)

It is a pretty good record in one month, the shortest of the year for 65 hens to produce 1314 eggs. That is what the famous White Leghorns of Fred Moore did in February. Fred has a small space in the back yard and regardless of the time of year, Moore's hens produce eggs.

G. C. Collum, Bandmaster, has taken charge of, and reorganized the Hamlin Band. New members are wanted for the band—those who really mean business, and don't mean maybe. See us before ordering your instrument, as we wish to keep instrumentation balanced. In other words, we do not want an all trombone, or all cornet band, etc.

Last Saturday, four of Hamlin's young men left for the plains of New Mexico. They were H. P. Stewart, Carl Childers, H. M. Sutterfield, and Joe Ben Lewis. They will be away seven or eight months and likely permanently.

Last Saturday was the time for a big road bond election in the Anson Road District. It carried by a big vote, almost unanimously. The same was true of the Albany election.

Boyd Chapel News: Our basketball teams went to Anderson Chapel Friday afternoon and played ball. Boyd Chapel boys and Anderson Chapel girls being winners. The boys scores were 42 to 18 and the girls were 5 to 8.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(March 11, 1949)

Hamlin donors already have given more than twice as much money to the American Red Cross than the quota called for. Arlie Cassle, chairman of the current campaign said Thursday morning.

With a quota of $892, set by the officials of the national organization, Hamlin had turned in a total of $2,165.71 prior to Thursday, with three more weeks to go.

Loss estimated at more than $5,000 was sustained in a fire that swept through the Modern Cleaners plant here shortly after 6 o'clock Monday evening.

Plans for establishing a youth recreation center will be discussed in a meeting in the Celotex village club house Saturday.

Annual membership banquet for the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce has been set for March 31.

Principal program for the event will be a talk by Henry W. Stanley, manager of the manufacturers and wholesalers department of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce.

Hamlin's two council members, whose terms were due to expire this year, have won reelection to their posts by default.

I. R. Witt and O. D. Roland, incumbents, were the only two candidates to file for the positions.

A history of ranching in Texas was given to the Hamlin Rotary Club at its Wednesday noon meeting by Mrs. Gordon Bennett of Abilene.

Members of the Hamlin chapter of Beta Theta entertained their husbands with a bridge and 42 party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Carmichael last week.

R. E. Dickson of Spur, soil conservation expert, was the principal speaker at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Hamlin Lions Club.

TEN YEARS AGO

President-elect C. F. Cook of the Hamlin Rotary Club and Mrs. Cook will be in Fort Worth this week-end for the annual meeting of District 579 of Rotary International.

B. V. Newberry, Hamlin High School principal, was among the scores of West Central Texas school teachers and administrators who attended the annual convention of the Oil Belt District of the Texas State Teachers Association last Friday and Saturday in Wichita Falls.

Members of the Beta Theta chapter of Beta Theta Phi met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Guy Weaver.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to the following women as they arrived: Mmes. Duane Stallecup, Billy Joe Wilson, D. C. Andrews, R. L. McClung, Neil Laminack, W. A. Hawkins and Austin Siburt.

Ann Richey, member of the Hamlin High School chapter of Future Homemakers of America, was elected as a state officer of the FHA.

Mrs. Ned Moore attended the fifty-seventh annual convention of the First District of Texas Federation of Women's Club, held at Mineral Wells as a representative of the Woman's Literary Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Russell realized a new kind of ambition while participating in the Rattlesnake Roundup at Sweetwater. Last November they set a goal of 1,000 rattlers for the year. Sunday, when they were members of the high snake catching party of hunters, they passed the 1,000 snake mark.

HUSTLE AND BUSTLE

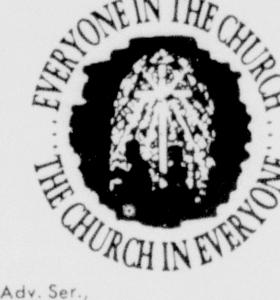

The big city throbs with business life, heavy traffic, and the comings and goings of many people. Whether you live in the city or you just come to town occasionally from the small town or farm, you have experienced this hustle and bustle. It reminds you that all life sometimes gets too hurried, too frantic with all we must do. We need a time to stop and somewhere to go to find peace and respite from all this. Have you thought of trying God? Job 22:21 says, "Acquaint now thyself with God and be at peace."

How sweet it is to be in God's house, to feel close to Him, to listen to His word. Tension leaves. Peace of soul arrives. Won't you attend God's house this week and see what he can do for you?

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Last Friday night after many hours of practice and much anticipation, the Junior class of Hamlin High presented their play, "The Stuck Pot." Entertainment between acts was provided by Peggy Jones and Wendy Russell who did a hat routine and by C. A. Jenkins, who played a tuba solo accompanied by Chris Perrin. Gifts were presented to Mrs. Bob Collins, play director, Mr. Mek Hartgrove, stage manager, Mr. Roger Moore, a class sponsor, and Mary Wallace and Wendy Russell, student directors.

Seniors have now begun memorizing lines and learning cues for their play, "The Green Light," to be presented April 18.

Dr. Neill Humfield, a music professor at East Texas State University, was here Tuesday to clinic the HHS band and to help prepare them for the University Interscholastic League Contest, April 15 in Coahoma.

The band will participate in both concert and sight-reading contests. In concert they will present three numbers, "March from The First Suite in E flat for Band" by Holst, "Dedication Overture" by Williams, and "American Civil War Fantasy" by Bilik. These numbers will also be presented on the Spring Concert.

The annual H. H. S. carnival will be held in the new high school building Saturday April 25. The date has been changed from March 22 because of the weather and many of the students will be out of town.

Classes and other school organizations met last week to decide on booths for the carnival. The carnival is sponsored by the Student Council.

Saturday, March 29 several H. H. S. students will participate in the U. I. L. Literary Contest in Anson. They have been working diligently to prepare the material which is to be used.

AUSTIN — Texas lawmakers are nearing the halfway mark of the 61st legislative session and the pace is beginning to quicken visibly.

More than 1,200 House bills and some 700 Senate bills (plus nearly 100 proposed constitutional amendments) were filed by Friday, the deadline for free-introduction of bills. A four-fifths majority now is required.

Although floor sessions are brief, a lot of legislation is getting passed — 63 bills alone, including some of the session's major business.

And the lights burn bright at the state capitol after midnight for some committees which schedule hearings on as many as a dozen bills at a time. Other committee meetings begin as early as 9 a.m. and last until floor action starts in the House and Senate.

So far, the Senate has reversed its usual form. It is cranking out general bills far faster than the House, where the representatives are pursuing a more-methodical, look-em-over-carefully procedure.

Last week, for example, the Senate banged through 34 bills on its regular calendars, some so fast there was no time allowed for explanation, let alone debate. Across the rotunda, the House passed only 13 measures on major calendars, but representatives reduced the gap considerably by cranking through 16 local bills at a single, hour-long sitting. Gov. Preston Smith signed six more into law.

One thing is sure . . . as the second lap of an historic legislation session begins, things will get a lot faster and a lot more hectic before early June when adjournment is scheduled.

Over 600 Attend Stamford Electric Coop Meeting

Over 600 members were in attendance at the 30th Annual Meeting of the Stamford Electric Cooperative in Stamford, March 12.

Entertainment, presentation of the winning speeches of Lycia King and Theo Smith, Youth Tour Winners, reports of S. E. C. activities, election of directors, and drawing of prizes constituted the program. The meeting ended with a noon barbecue lunch.

Open House of the Stamford Electric Cooperative office building followed immediately after the noon meal.

All directors were re-elected. These included E. W. Carlson, Ed F. Fouts, O. G. Lewis, R. P. Nunneley, Leo McKeever, H. L. Osment, M. E. Overton, J. C. Rainwater and G. J. Smith.

In a brief meeting following the annual meeting, the directors returned all officers to the positions they held last year.

There were 30 door prizes given away during the meeting. Eighteen of these were cash prizes, which totaled $180.00, while the remaining 12 were six months free use of a security light.

The printed annual report was dedicated to C. M. Lester, who served as manager of the cooperative for 25 years before retiring December 31, 1968.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. Miller; two brothers, Clyde of Dallas and Harold of Los Angeles, Calif., and a number of nieces and nephews.

Corrections.

House approved creation of a new Texas Technological College of Medicine at Lubbock and voted to strike down immunity of government units from lawsuits for damages. Representatives gave strong support to a bill to give the Legislature the right to set Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Columbus Day and Veterans Day holidays on Mondays to conform to the federal holidays.

Senate passed key bills to put sharp teeth in air and water pollution controls, require breath tests of suspected drunk drivers, require public agencies to give three days notice of their official meetings and provide tougher controls over teen-age drinking.

Other Senate bills would authorize payment of up to $5,000 for moving homes and businesses displaced in highway right-of-way condemnation proceedings, remove the $8,400 salary ceiling on which teachers contribute to retirement, establish a temporary Governor's Human Relations Committee, set up a new commission to regulate credit unions and request the U. S. Congress to ease restrictions on cable television.

Both houses have passed their own version of bills to permit schools to teach in a foreign language those students who have difficulty with English in elementary grades, to lower from two years to one year the minimum time between elections to adopt or abolish city sales taxes and to close some public roads on state-owned land held for use of the Texas Department of Senate has adopted an amended version of a House bill to permit a statewide cooperative network of local libraries. Governor Smith now has the bill.

BILLS RUNNETH OVER

— Several education bills have been filed in the last few days. Rep. Guy Floyd of San Antonio wants the Attorney General's office to assist school districts threatened with the loss of Federal funds.

Rep. David Evans of San Antonio wants the state to contribute as much money to private school students as it does to public school students through the minimum Foundation School Program.

Rep. Jim Nugent filed a bill to prohibit the Legislature from enacting an individual state income tax.

Rep. Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi has a constitutional amendment to remove the ceiling on welfare payments.

Rep. Neal Solomon of Mount Vernon has a bill to allow the agriculture commissioner to prohibit the sale of any milk not meeting agriculture department standards.

Rep. David Allred of Wichita Falls introduced a one bill package prohibiting racing a car motor, sudden stops or starts, unnecessary horn-blowing, contesting speed, fighting, indecent language, throwing things, littering, loitering or intoxication on shopping centers.

Tommy Carpenter visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carpenter. A senior observer with Teledyne Exploration Company, he left Saturday for British Honduras where he will be located.

The program began at 9:30 a.m. After the luncheon, the afternoon session included presentations on transmission, lasers and many other aspects of communications.

Three Students Attend Science Day Program

Three Hamlin High School

physics students attended a science day program and demonstration in Abilene last Tuesday as a guest of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Attending were Bill Johnson, Mike Young and Peter Camacho.

The program began at 9:30 a.m. After the luncheon, the afternoon session included presentations on transmission, lasers and many other aspects of communications.

School Board Renews Contracts

In a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Hamlin School District the contracts of T. C. Blankinship and Tim Jones were renewed. Both men have two year contracts.

Blankinship is head of the vocational agriculture department and Jones is band director.

Joe Youngblood, head coach and athletic director, requested that his contract not be considered for renewal by the board. Youngblood's present contract runs through one more year.

Brother of Mrs. I. D. Miller Dies

Daws Fuller, 79, retired Rule water superintendent and brother of Mrs. I. D. Miller of Hamlin, died at 8 p.m. Friday in Haskell Memorial Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Services were held Monday in the First United Methodist Church of Rule. Rev. Marvin Fisher and Rev. Mike Hertington officiated. Burial was in Rule Cemetery.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. Miller; two brothers, Clyde of Dallas and Harold of Los Angeles, Calif., and a number of nieces and nephews.

ter parking lots.

TAX TIME — House Speaker Gus Mutscher has been talking with legislators to see what sort of tax program they will support to pay for the new programs which they may pass. Governor Smith's tax program was introduced by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas. It also puts a $10 "superfine" on all who violate the traffic laws where motion is involved.

COMMITTEES AT WORK

— House State Affairs Committee got into the basic philosophies of rural life and business economics while considering a bill by Rep. Neal Solomon of Mt. Vernon. It would require telephone companies to maintain an office in every county seat they serve. Bill was sent to a subcommittee for further study.

Senate State Affairs Committee sent to subcommittee a controversial bill that would require Texas school districts to adopt "continuing contracts" for their teachers. It would not allow dismissal except for specific circumstances.

A-G OPINIONS

— A bill which proposes to change the boundaries of two of the 31 state senatorial districts would be a general law and on the effective date would require election of an entire new senate, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin. However, Martin said the measure would be repealed by the reapportionment required after the 1970 census, or by legislative redistricting board apportionment.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

A bill changing powers and qualifications of the Red River Authority directors is constitutional, as is another measure which would give the Galveston City Council the right to recommend three of seven Galveston County Water Authority directors who are city residents.

Texas Water Development Board could not transfer water from East Texas basins to other basins and thus circumvent a 50-year protection clause in the state constitution because of the addition of words "or for any other beneficial use" in legislation regulating acquisition and development of massive water storage facilities over the state.

Time Running Out For 1969 Motor Vehicle Inspection

AUSTIN — Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today reminded motorists that only one month remains before the 1969 motor vehicle inspection deadline.

To date, an estimated 2.8 million vehicles have received the inspection required by state law. The Department of Public Safety said some 3.2 million additional vehicles remain to be inspected prior to midnight, April 15.

Speir said 42.2 per cent of the vehicles inspected so far required mechanical adjustments prior to issuance of an inspection sticker. The defect found most often has been misalignment of headlights.

The Department of Public Safety urged motorists to get the inspection soon to avoid long lines which will develop at inspection stations as the April 15 deadline approaches.

Texas has 5,466 licensed inspection stations.

More than 48 percent of all Peace Corps Volunteers are serving as educators in programs that range from pre-kindergarten to university levels.

Neinda Philosopher Looks With Considerable Concern At New Crop-Photographing Camera

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One takes what must be a backward look at a new invention. Dear editor:

I was out here walking over this Johnson grass farm inspecting things and planning my work for the months ahead, well I wasn't actually doing much planning, what I was doing was getting away from the noise of my house, noise like "other homes around here have washing machines, why can't this one?" or "this land is about as good as that across the fence, how come it doesn't make as much?" or "when are you going to fix that loose board in the back steps?" and so when I stumbled on a newspaper it was actually welcome. Since most problems can't be solved anyway, a smart man will worry about those furthest away from home.

According to an article in this paper, the latest thing in space work is a camera that takes four pictures at the same time from a satellite circling the earth, and it's so accurate it can actually detect the condition of crops, can tell what insects are bothering them, can reveal the moisture content of the soil, can even spot fish in lakes and oceans.

Some people call this progress but I call it scientific snooping. It's bad enough to have to explain the condition of my crops right around the house, without having to defend what's over the next ridge.

While I guess I should be grateful for the scientists' sending up a 10-million-dollar satellite to tell me whether or not I need a rain, up to now I've always managed to find out on my own.

And as for locating fish, maybe in the middle of the Atlantic would be all right, but let some high-powered camera send back a message from space that fish are biting in a place I'd figured out for myself and was keeping quiet about, and I'd have more company than a new Governor with 1500 jobs to fill.

However, I don't suppose there's any way to stop pro-

In summary, Dr. Perrin related, "We are not dealing with cold biological facts in sex education, but with the realities of being human. District Courtroom Remodeling Bids Sought By Court

The district courtroom at Anson may soon take on a new look — something that most Jones Countians have felt has been indicated for a long time.

The county commissioners instructed Judge Leon Thurman to obtain estimates on lowering the ceilings, placing tile on the floors of the court room, the district clerk's office and the county superintendent's office.

New lighting would be installed in the courtroom and the upper windows would be covered.

The county has approximately $17,000 in the permanent improvement fund and some of this money can be used for this purpose.
